Smores: How does it will meet needs for students?

Newsletters are a great way for teachers to communicate with parents and keep them updated on the happenings in their classroom. They can also be used as a tool to promote the involvement of parents within their children's learning. Smores' newsletters have changed my newsletter life!

I can add to my newsletter as the week is progressing, adding photographs from the week, video, forms of at home activities and practice - the list goes on! I feel so much more connected with my parents and how to provide them knowledge of what we are working on so they can share in the learning process than ever before.

Smore is an interactive newsletter, flyer, poster, that can be embedded within your classroom website and/or sent directly to parents. Smore newsletters can also be kept as documentation of parent communication. Newsletters are a great way for teachers to keep parents updated on the happenings in their classroom.
